

* REVISED * 2011 SEMINAR PROGRAMME

- 9th February            Multicriteria Appraisal in Mega Technological Infrastructures: some pros, cons and wider issues
Professor Andrew Stirling, University of Sussex, UK
- 16th March             From S to sigma: towards a new development pattern of the hellenic space? Is there a role for mega transport projects in spatial restructuring?
Professor Pantelis Skayannis, University of Thessaly, Greece
- 18th March
FRIDAY, 4PM            Redundancy and Resilience as Key to the Problem of Tunneled Decision-Making: Applications in Dutch Mega Infrastructure Projects
Professor Willem Salet, University of Amsterdam
- 13th April              The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly: an Overview of the PPP Experiences from Taiwan's Rail Projects
Professor Oliver Shyr, National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan
- 11th May                Mega Projects and Sustainable Development: Beyond the Rhetoric and Into Action
Stephen Joseph, Director, Campaign for Better Transport
- 25th May                Energy: the pre-conditions for making a quarter of GDP sustainable: regulatory needs for mega projects
Oliver Sparrow, Director, the Challenge Network
- 12th October           Major infrastructure planning for 'old' world cities
Professor Peter Newman, University of Westminster
- 19th October           Mega Projects and Mega Events: The Experience of Preparing for the London Olympics
Niall McNevin, Director of Planning, Olympic Park Legacy Company
- 16th November        Major Projects and the work of the IPC/Planning Inspectorate
Robert Upton CBE, Deputy Chair, Infrastructure Planning Commission
- 14th December        Multi-criteria Analysis in the Planning and Appraisal of Mega Infrastructure Projects
Reg Harman, Transport Consultant & former Senior Research Fellow, Omega Centre & John Ward, Senior Research Fellow, Omega Centre

Dates to be confirmed

Evaluating Major Transport Projects: An appraisal of the recent World Bank Evaluation Unit's Report
Peter Freeman, World Bank

Time: Wednesdays, 5.30pm
Venue: Room 401,
Bartlett School of Planning, UCL
Wates House, 22 Gordon Street,
London WC1H 0QB.
Directions at: <http://www.ucl.ac.uk/locations/ucl-maps>

All are welcome and participation is free.
Further details of each seminar will be circulated nearer the time; for enquiries and to join the mailing list, please contact June Taylor on june.taylor@ucl.ac.uk or 020 7679 4882.